WHO THE DUCK ARE WE?

Australian grown duck

Luv-a-Duck began in 1968, when Art Shoppee founded the business in the small Wimmera town of Nhill. Fifty-seven years later, we remain a proud Australian family business, now led by the third generation.

Art, a natural entrepreneur, originally ran the local dry-cleaners. Always looking for new opportunities, he travelled to Melbourne to buy chickens during a period of shortage. When the market had completely sold out, he returned instead with twenty ducklings. Those ducks proved an instant hit – and from that moment, the family business was hatched.

The Wimmera region of Victoria quickly revealed itself as the perfect place to raise ducks. Nestled between deserts to the north and south, the area offers an ideal micro-climate. Gentle winds help keep barns cool during summer heat and warm during winter nights.

Art was a true visionary, recognising early the importance of vertical integration, strong biosecurity, and genuine community partnership.

Today, within a 100km radius of Nhill, the business includes 27 farms, a state-of-the-art hatchery, and our primary processing facility. In nearby Ballarat, Victoria, our secondary processing site produces our heat-and-eat products.

Now led by Art's grandson, Daniel Shoppee, Luv-a-Duck continues to uphold the same values Art lived by – integrity, ingenuity and giving back. We remain deeply committed to supporting local regional communities: farmers, schools, sporting clubs, and community groups who've been part of our story from the very beginning.

BREAKDOWN OF DUCK

WELL I'LL BE DUCK'D!

An amazing, nutritional dense red meat, full of surprises:

- A good source of protein.
- TWICE the iron of beef.
- With skin off, breast has less fat than chicken, HALF that of lean beef.
- Excellent balance of unsaturated fats and Omega 3.
- Rich source of amino acids, making an excellent dietary protein.

- Abundant supply of B vitamins, greater than chicken.
- Ideal for people low in iron, wanting to build muscle and older people addressing nutritional deficiencies.
